Dear Janis,

A hurried note as I have come across a line which, I believe, may prove of some interest to you. At least it is more than we have now!

William Colyar, b ca 1756, Montgomery Co., near Roanoke, Virginia, died ca 1819 Washington Co., TN, believed to be son of a John Colyar. Married to "Nancy" Ann St. Clair, supposedly sister to General Arthur St. Clair, (who came to America in 1757 with the British Army, resigned his commission in 1762, settling in the Ligonier Valley of Pennsylvania.

Projected children:

MALE-definite:

Arthur St.Clair/Sinclair
William, Jr., Esq. married Liddie Nelson

Possibles:

Alexander who married Kate Sherrill (lived in Franklin Co., TN)
John who married first: Martha Minus, and 2nd-Lydia Purvis.
THESE TWO ARE DEFINITELY BROTHERS

Leonard who married Charlottle Slagle may be another, and it looks as tho' he definitely had a brother, William, who married Eliza Dyche, and therefore may not belong to the above family.

There were also in the area: a Morgan who married Betsy Purvis (see above #2 wife of John), and a Thomas who may fit into this family.

FEMALE

Possibilities:

Ursula who married John Lashbrook
Dorcas who married John Calvert

*Dorcas Callier
* 3/20/1785 d 6/1/1843
NOT verified*

Some of this information came from a book by CALLOWAY, and some from the EAST TENNESSENEAN (am not sure of this title as I have only an abbreviation but show page 552)

I have not proven anything - but am enclosing some copies of proof that may support soem of the above. I also sent you the other marriages I think previously. Perhaps this will enable you to learn more about Dorcas.

Do let me know if anything here fits with what you already have or learn.

Oliver
